

Modern Chinese Diplomacy (46861)

Prof. Xiong Zhiyong
(China Foreign Affairs University)

International seminar at HUJI
FALL SEMESTER 2018

*How has China's foreign policy changed in modern times?
Will China's new diplomacy strategies reshape the world?*

This course will present the history of China's relations with other countries from late imperial times until today, and introduce the current foreign policies of the Chinese government. It will focus on various important changes, issues and challenges in Chinese diplomacy in the past 40 years, such as Sino-U.S relations, the Peaceful Rise Strategy, the One Belt One Road Initiative, and more.

The course will be taught in English and is open to MA students and to outstanding third-year BA students (with 85 grade point average and above)

For more information, please see: <http://shnaton.huji.ac.il/yearbook.php>